PLANNING FOR THE FUTURE 2010-2013

1 Laying the Framework

The City Council Vision, originally developed in 2002 and last updated in 2008, was used as the starting place for identifying planning actions areas and beginning discussions with the community.

2 Project Launch

The We Love Lake Oswego booth at the City's Centennial Festival launched the update process. As Lake Oswegans reflected on the past 100 years of the city's history, we asked them to start imagining the next 100 for their children and grandchildren.

3 Developing the 2035 Draft Vision Statement

A Community-Wide Survey

During July, August and September, over 800 community members visited wevelakeoswego.com to answer the questions: What Do You Value About Lake Oswego Today? And What Should Lake Oswego Be Like for Future Generations?

4 October Workshops

150 community members gathered at the WEB during two public workshops. Participants brainstormed their ideas for the future in each of the action areas.

5 Draft Vision and CAC Editing

Using the input gathered from the community, the initial draft Council vision was updated and presented to the CAC for review and refinement. This was the first of several times the CAC helped to revise the draft vision statement, aiming for clear and concise description of what they heard the community wants.

6 Public Review of Draft Vision

Did we get it right?

The draft vision statement was posted online, and community members were asked to rate their level of agreement with each statement.

7 Applying the Vision Concepts to the Map

In addition to a narrative description, an important part of planning is exploring what form the ideas could take on the ground.

8 January Design Workshop

The CAC invited the City Council, Planning Commission and local design professionals to brainstorm land use concepts through maps, drawings and narrative.

See the Scenarios board for more detail.

9 Draft Scenarios

Based on the draft vision statement and ideas from the design workshop, two alternative scenarios were developed to depict ways in which Lake Oswego could implement the vision, accommodate new jobs and housing, and become a more sustainable community.

10 Public Review of Scenarios

Are these the right ideas to study?

The City and CAC hold a public open house to get community input on three alternative scenarios.
